

MEET THE MANAGERS

Bringing Investment Professionals Together

Catalina Secreteanux
Associate Director
Sustainalytics

Catalina is part of Sustainalytics' Institutional Relations team and, since relocating from London to Sydney in 2015, she has been working with investors in the Asia Pacific region to support the development and implementation of their ESG strategies.

Catalina has over seven years' experience in sustainable and responsible investment and, in 2013 and 2014, she was voted best client relations person for responsible investment in the Independent Research in Responsible Investment (IRRI) Survey.

Catalina is an active member of several responsible investment networks more recently a founding member of the "Next Generation" initiative, a peer support network for individuals working in responsible investment in the UK, as well as a founding member of the "Women in Sustainable Finance" network, based in Sydney.

Catalina has a master's degree in Corporate Social Responsibility from Nottingham University Business School and a bachelor's degree in Political Science from the University of Bucharest.